

China in Transformation

I. Course Description:

This course deals with the transformation of China from a traditional type of society to a modern nation. Two major themes, nationalism and communism, will serve as organizing threads throughout the course. Major events in the past, such as the Taiping Rebellion, the May Four Movement, Communist victory, will be selectively and emphatically explored. It aims at an understanding of China's modern history and sheds lights on the contemporary era. Required are one book review and a research paper of approximately 15 pages on any topic related to modern China.

Class sessions will consist of lectures, discussions and student presentations. Students have to finish all readings before coming to any particular class.

II. Required Textbooks:

R. Keith Schoppa, Revolution and Its Past.
